

KidzStuff July 2023 Infant/Toddler Newsletter

Bugging Into Summer

Lots of bugs have settled in our Infant/Toddler World. We are so excited they will be with us for the rest of the summer. Our friends have enjoyed being Entomologist so far. We will continue studying different insect lives, their body types, what they eat and their habitats.

Please join us in reading lots of bug books to our friends over the next 8 weeks. We have listed them below for your review:

- The Bug Hunt
- The Very Hungry Caterpillar
- Bug Zoo
- Backyard Bugs

Infants and Toddlers Milestones

Help your child to learn “cause and effect” with toys that squeak, rattle, light up, or play music when they are handled. As the toys make noise lights up, or shakes let your infant/toddler hold the toy in their hand while you show them how it makes sounds or shakes or shines brightly. Be careful not to show them the on and off button as you will lose your parent power to make it all stop when you have had enough!
